

Impel's Sales AI Increases Productivity by Engaging Every Lead, Day and Night

AI-powered automation expands sales team capacity and efficiency while driving more showroom appointments for Crystal Lake CDJR

The Challenge

Capacity challenges and headcount constraints cause sales opportunities to fall through the cracks

The Solution

Sales AI engages every lead instantly, day or night, improving sales productivity and boosting appointment volume

Resource Constraints Create More Challenges for Dealer Sales Teams

Managing and responding to shopper inquiries at all hours of the day and night across an increasingly complex mix of channels is difficult for any sales team. But in today's environment, the challenge is compounded as dealers seek to do more with less, driving efficiency while controlling staffing costs. Frustration grows as sales reps get stretched in too many directions and causing missed sales opportunities to pile up.

The sales team at Crystal Lake CDJR was feeling the pressure. They were so busy with follow-ups and administrative tasks that keeping up with inbound inquiries across multiple channels was difficult. Leads that came in overnight were often pushed to the next day in order to serve in-person or in-the-moment requests. Consistently delivering high-quality responses while shoppers clamored for information across multiple channels was becoming increasingly challenging. How could the team respond more quickly to every lead without adding headcount?

"It felt like we were running around like chickens with our heads cut off," remarked Arlo Javier, Managing Director. "We're an incredibly busy dealership, and we needed something that would help us respond faster without sacrificing quality — or increasing overhead."
